. . . Ann Landers

day off, to "fiddle around," as he called it. I washed, ironed, baked, did the yard work and tried to pay some attention to the children.

After too many years of being a dumbbell, I solved my problem by quitting my job. When my husband knew he no longer had a crutch to lean on he learned to walk by himself. We don't have a spare dime now, but who cares? I feel like — A NEW PERSON

Dear Ann Landers: I work in an office with approximately thirty girls. One of the girls is getting married soon. The bride-to-be sent one wedding invitation which was addressed to "ALL THE GIRLS IN THE OFFICE." The invitation was posted on the bulletin board.

Much has been said around the office as to whether or not this was in good taste. We divided into three camps: Those who think it was a new low in vulgarity, those who feel it was perfectly all right, and those who are undecided.

We all want to know what you think.—SALLY

Dear Sally: A mass invitation to a wedding is no invitation at all. In my opinion it's in the same category with that tired, empty phrase, "Why don't you come over to see us sometime?" Each guest goes to a wedding as an individual. Therefore each guest should be accorded the courtesy of a separate invitation.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What to Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nurses Aid Course Set At Hospital

Riviera Community Hospital, aided by the Auxiliary, is offering a nurses aid course, complete in every detail. The course, held at the hospital, will extend for four weeks and is held three mornings a week from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. The classes are conducted under the supervision of Mrs. Rose Eberhart, R.N., director of nurses at Riviera Hospital.

Assisting in teaching will be three other registered nurses, Mmes. Ralph Black, Kenneth Lewin and Rheinhold Ullrich.

Examinations will be given at the end of the course, which has been approved by the medical staff. Those passing will be given certificates which may be used as proof of training in obtaining a position, helping in the Civil Defense program, or in donating time to the Volunteer Service at the hospital.

Those desiring further information may call Mrs. Eberhart at the hospital.

Mr. Bollington will play several CONN organs. The artist calls upon the full spectrum and fluency of the instrument when he emulates sounds of marimbas, accordians, busy fairgrounds, wolf whistles, and bird whistles to list a few.

Bollington has found the complete range of his instrument. His concert selections and popular request numbers leave little doubt to this fact in the minds of the audience.
